Policies & Procedures

- Classes will be taught by the head instructor or his assistants. Instruction will be given in armizare and fencing, the scope of which will be determined by the head instructor and his assistants. Freeplay (sparring) is a privilege granted early, but continually earned through dedicated training. The ability to engage in freeplay with other students will be determined by the instructor and his assistants based on the student's training level, skill base, and general conduct.
- The first class is always free. We encourage students to try classes and get a feel for the art and the training methods involved.
- Training fees are due at the beginning of each month for that same month. Payments should be made by the 10th of the month to avoid a $10 late fee. Payments need to be kept up to date for training to continue. Payment is strictly monthly; there are no long-term contracts or joining fees.
- There are no partial fees or refunds. The sole exception is the first month, which will be prorated by joining date (eg if the student joins halfway through the month, half the normal fee will be assessed). Please give written or e-mailed notice within the current month if you will not attend classes the following month. There are Change of Enrollment Forms below the payment box.
- In the event of bad weather, the Academy will follow the 4J School closing schedule (eg if 4J is closed, the Academy is closed). The Academy will attempt to send notice by e-mail and Twitter to all students, but due to the vagaries of electronic communication, such notice is not guaranteed.
- Students agree to conduct themselves in a focused and disciplined manner in all classes, and to treat fellow students and all instructors respectfully. Instructors are addressed by their formal titles, or by "Mr. / Ms."
- Some equipment is available for use by beginning students. After the first three months, students should begin acquiring their own equipment from the Academy's list of approved equipment. Some equipment can be purchased through the Academy; some is more economically purchased by the student via internet stores. A complete list of approved equipment is available.
- The Academy will from time to time hold seminars and special classes outside the normal schedule, each carrying its own training fee. Advance notice is given of these seminars and classes. Reservations and payments for these seminars and classes are due at a specified date in advance. In the event of postponement, the student may choose to retain his or her reservation, or may choose to receive a full refund of the fee.
